Subject: Why isn't Weber spending $2 million to promote revisionism?

There may be a few copies of that floating around somewhere, but you should really contact Mark Weber, the leading revisionist historian on the face of the planet, one of the most articulate people ever created, one of the most, uh, shit, I can't even begin to tell you, one of the most wonderful people ever, who—as the owner of everything that Liberty Lobby ever created—who has the rights to republish that

In the meantime, you might also find some rare Voth-hated revisionists, who are some of the more productive revisionists, at least in terms of hyping revisionism via a via email, are so caught up in the Terri Schiavo stuff.

There is one New York-based revisionist who actually accomplishes something, yet, for some reason he seems to be caught up in the Weber mystique, which is largely fictitious, considering the fact that Weber himself did not even come on board at the IHR until one year before the actual take-over in 1993, meaning that Weber had little, if anything, to contribute to the IHR prior to 1993.

Then, given Weber's "contribution" -- after 1993 -- it all raises some questions as to why any serious revisionist would support him. The one New York revisionist that I am thinking of has contributed, in his own fashion, much more to revisionism than Weber, yet he still seems to be captivated by Weber.

What gives?

Since I am a known public critic of Willis Carto (with my very harsh criticisms of Willis having been widely published on the Internet) I am free to say publicly what many would not otherwise might say.

And yet, at the same time, I have been a defender of Willis Carto's role in the IHR affair and a very harsh critic, likewise, of Mark Weber's antics in the IHR affair. precisely because he deserves criticism.

Hell, I wish I was sitting on the $2 million bucks that Weber has received from various sources -- originally earmarked for Liberty Lobby -- that have come under Weber's control through the IHR).

If I had $2 million at my disposal I would spend part of it in a very simple way.

And if anyone who has any SERIOUS interest in revisionism other than promoting Mark Weber (who is run by Andrew Allen, the CIA fink -- apparently related to the the Nissan family if private detectives are correct -- I will be very interested in telling you how serious revisionists could effectively spend all the money that Mark Weber is sitting on.

Considering the fact that, for the last 20 years, I have been a primary writer of fundraising letters for The Barnes Review (which has 9,000 subscribers—9,000 more than Mark Weber has for the IHR—and for Liberty Lobby and then for American Free Press, it seems to me that—perhaps—my input might mean something.

Listen folks: serious revisionists need to get control of the $2 million — give or take a few hundred thousand – that are in the hands of Mark Weber.

Serious revisionists need to rally key supporters of the IHR and demand that they put pressure on the IHR board of directors to subordinate the IHR wealth to REAL revisionists such as Fredrick Toben, Germar Rudolf, Mike Santomauro, Bradley Smith, and a host of other folks!

A lot of revisionists don't like Willis Carto, but the pendulum in the revisionist movement is going to put its faith in Mark Weber, with all of the millions at his disposal, who is not contributing anything to revisionism, other than his constant support of Carto's foes, subverting top-ranked conflicts.

Any revisionist who is a promoter of Mark Weber should be immediately suspect. Dare I mention the names of those who continue to promote him?

Subject: Willis Carto Published All of these books, magazines, etc .

What Hath Carto Wrought?

Going through my files, I came across this list of all of the newspapers, magazines, books and pamphlets that Willis Carto has printed or published over the years.

Quite a remarkable list.

I thought this might be of interest to Revisionists who have only heard negative things about Willis that have emanated from those who are obviously unable to achieve the same stellar publishing record themselves.

----MICHAEL COLLINS PIPER

The List follows:

The Spotlight Newspaper - Weekly issues from 1975 through summer 2001

The Barnes Review magazine - Monthly and then bi-monthly from 1994 to present

American Free Press newspaper - Weekly beginning in the fall of 2001

Sixty issues of RIGHT newsletter, October 1955 to September 1966

Seven Volumes of The American Mercury, published MONTHLY by WAC from 1960 to 1980.

Forty six volumes of the Journal of Historical Review, quarterly, Spring of 1980 through Winter 1992-1993.

Five volumes (8.5 x 11 format) of the JHR - Published in 1993 by IHR. NOTE: The "new" management of the IHR seem to have failed miserably and have been unable to churn out more than a handful of issues of the JHR's journal. Contrast this to the amazing output of Willis Carto and, for that matter, of Germar Rudolf.

Liberty Lowdown, newsletter by Liberty Lobby, Feb 1 1963 - June 1971, one hundred issues - additional volumes were published.

Liberty Letter, Nov. 1960 to June 1969. One hundred issues, additional volumes were published.

Washington Observer Newsletter, approximately 200 issues, possibly more. Published beginning in 1963 up through approximately September 1976.

Western Destiny, multiple issues.

The First National Directory of Rightist Groups, Publications, and Some Individuals in the United States and Some Foreign Countries.
